PRESS RELEASE

WHAT'S IN A NAME?

23 January - 21 February 1998

The artist's name is the basis of identification, selection and authentication.
The artist's name is fundamental to credibility.
The artist's name is our guarantee.
The artist's name was not chosen by the artist.

Group exhibitions are planned before the participants have been invited.
Their possible inclusion also depends upon a choice that is not theirs.

The participants in this exhibition are chosen on the basis of their name alone.

WHAT'S IN A NAME? includes a broad range of creative activity including painting, sculpture, film, photography, poetry, literature, craft, music, performance, architecture, advertising, cooking and more...

WHAT'S IN A NAME?... Everything.

This is one of our occasional series of exhibitions which allow the development of meaning from random origins.
